Adjust coffee table

We are proud to introduce our unique coffee table Adjust, a bold modern design made with solid French oak heartwood. As its name suggests, Adjust is ingeniously designed so that you can customize it in different ways to create a coffee table tailored to any space. The basic design employs three wooden beam elements. Using a hidden mechanism, you can slide each beam individually to vary the table width from 125 cm (49 inches) up to 190 cm (75 inches). The length of the table can be increased to any desired extent simply by adding more beam elements. This flexibly proportioned design thus invites you to create a playful combination of elements or a clean modern look in keeping with your preferences and living space.

Air 65 and Fat Air 65

Even when it feels like every chair is already made, how can we create a chair that feels new? The 'Air 65' is based on one clear concept: no-nonsense design, comfortable and without any decoration. The Air 65 chair has a comfortable, wide seat. The only visible constructive element is the connection of the backrest. The solid designed legs, constructed out of subtle tubes and the rough seat & backrest, give this chair a modest but exciting character.

Bridge table

Our bold yet refined Bridge table is inspired by the bridges of the Dutch landscape and their symbolism. Providing ready connection between otherwise inaccessible points, bridges enable people to come together and connect. In the social sphere of living spaces, that is exactly what the Bridge table is designed to accomplish, its solid form and splayed legs referencing the structures that inspired it. Herein lies its distinctive visual power that will energize any domestic interior. Like the structures that inspired it, the Bridge table is both strong and beautifully detailed. The legs are created using special laser cut-technology. Their exterior sides are milled to be seamlessly engaged by a bold steel frame. The robust table top is made from French solid oak. This unique design is available in a variety of standard sizes and color finishes. Moreover it can be customized to fit your personal taste and space needs.

For example choose a wider or a more narrow size table top or modify the position of the beautiful legs. Modifications like these will allow you to create the perfect table to bring people together and connect!

Cambria Bliss

Cambria Bliss is a beautifully designed and well-thought-out piece of furniture. Its combination of elegance, charm, and comfort is certainly appealing. The attention to detail, such as the rounded edges of the truncated pyramid base and the padded seat, shows a careful consideration for both aesthetics and functionality. The fact that the base widens gently towards the floor, providing stability without detracting from the overall design, demonstrates a keen understanding of form and balance.

The accentuated tilt of the backrest and its enveloping shape are thoughtful features that prioritize both relaxation and maintaining an elegant posture during social interactions. This suggests a deep consideration for how the chair will be used in real-life settings, particularly around a dining table.

The fabric cover that envelops Cambria Bliss like a tailored suit adds a final touch of refinement, ensuring that it not only looks elegant but also feels luxurious. Overall, Cambria Bliss appears to be a thoughtfully designed and meticulously crafted piece of furniture that prioritizes both style and comfort. It would likely be a standout addition to any interior space.

Coco coffee table

The latest addition to the QLIV collection is coffee table CoCo. An innovative design by Carolina Wilcke whose work can be characterized as pure and clear, pursuing the perfect aesthetic proportions. Coffee table CoCo is an extremely refined eye catcher. With this design Wilcke pays tribute to traditional woodworking. The uncomplicated geometric objects that form the base of the table are a fine example of craftsmanship and make this table unique. This coffee table is a spacious sculpture that gives a different, inviting composition from every position and angle.

The design is sturdy and elegant, refined, and surprising, design features that make designer Wilcke and QLIV a perfect match. CoCo is available in oak, beech, and American walnut. The top is also available in travertine, a beautiful natural material that comes in several natural shades.

Cross table

Architectural and elegant, that's the new Cross table. For her very first design for Qliv Dutch designer Carolina Wilcke was inspired by Art Deco architecture, such as the Empire State Building in New York. As elegant and robust as that building is the characteristic cross base of the table, from which the design owes its name. Because of the central position of the foot, made of black steel, it is very easy to put chairs around it: the base is never in the way. Cross is available with a rectangular or oval table top, made of European oak. Caroline Wilcke: 'The Art Deco movement combined Modernist forms with rich materials, just like the Cross table.'

Crossings coffee table

This coffee table embodies an exciting balance between solid and void. Its design features a rectangular table top of solid French oak running in two halves lengthwise, the corners and sides slightly rounded. The dynamic steel base on which the table top sits, created using laser cut- technology and finished with a powder coating, consists of multiple intersections that provide a rhythmic, asymmetrical contrast with the insistent rectangular form of the tabletop. Solid, it seems to float above the floor, the flat bands of the base taking on the appearance of shadows cast on the floor. Highly functional is the elegant, discrete magazine rack which can be attached underneath the table top. Other options include the color of the wood and the placement of the supporting elements of the base. Bold yet playful, the Crossings coffee table epitomizes the best in contemporary design.

Founded Collection

Though and refined, is a perfect description for the Founded collection designed by Richard Schipper.

The idea submerges from the desire of keeping the Dutch manufacturing industry and design development alive.

The designs are characterized by the use of luxurious saddle leather with an artisanal crafted bent, single-piece steel frame.

Saddle leather is a vegetable tanned leather. Because of its strong and inextensible properties it is highly suitable for the use in seating furniture. To enrich the saddle leather's appearance a grained variety has been used. Using a grained variety contributes to a warm and minimalistic experience and is therefore a perfect addition to the QLIV collection.

Gon table

QLIV introduces a new, playful, hexagonal series of coffee and side tables. The series is named GON, inspired by the distinctive shape of a hexagon. The hexagon, with its six angles, is not only playful but also invites the creation of a wide range of adaptable shapes and compositions. The GON series includes a wooden coffee table and a wooden side table, available in closed and open versions, providing space for stacking magazines or decorative accessories. Additionally, the series offers a metal variant, finished with powder coating and featuring a top made of oak, walnut, or travertine. Sven Schimmer is responsible for the design.

Mitchell table

Roderick Vos: 'Structural strength and simplicity was the basis for this design. With its signature corner detail, the oak table MITCHELL represents a clear example of a minimalist table'.

Its archetypical form and distinct corner joint detail, seen on top of the table, account for the special allure of this design. There are two different table top shapes, a rectangular & oval shaped version. And of course this design is available in multiple formats.

Mitchell is a timeless handcrafted table design, and its curved shapes were inspired by the wings of a Spitfire airplane. (A childhood memory of the designer.)

MITCHELL is a 'designer homage' to Reginald Mitchell, the designer of the Spitfire airplane.

Mito table

Mito is a new addition to the wide range of QLIV dining tables. Carolina Wilcke designed this table for QLIV, inspired by the technique of bending wood. Her style is characterized as pure and clear, tough, yet refined. The tabletop, which has been finished to perfection, is slightly rounded, and is gracefully supported by rectangular curved wooden table legs. The legs of the table are set at a playful angle and split just below the tabletop. By experimenting with curved shapes of wood, the legs originated as a 'design gift'. The splitting of the legs inspired Wilcke to choose the name Mito, which refers to Mitosis, the process of cell division. This elegant table is available in European oak and American walnut. Oak provides a fresh, modern look, while American walnut gives the table a warmer feel.

To be Served round tables

This distinctively designed series of round tables lends a stylish and playful note to any interior. The combination of materials, a solid oak top with a single piece steel frame created with laser cut-technology, is eye catching. The design's practicality is evident in the two smaller models in which the wooden top can be used as a serving tray by simply lifting up the tabletop off the base.

The smallest size affords the extra convenience of allowing the tabletop to be slid over the sofa, allowing sitters easy access to food and drinks placed on it!
